Christian Ethos

Cedar College was formed specifically for the education of students in a distinctly Christian environment, where Christian beliefs in the home are supported at school.

It is our intention to provide an environment where all students will be actively encouraged to consider the Christian faith irrespective of their religious background. Students will participate in chapel services, class devotions, prayer and worship times, Christian Living studies and any other activities where the Christian faith is practised and discussed.

Cedar College does not preclude people based on their religious background. However, Cedar College does not provide an environment where people of other faiths, doctrines and religions may overtly practice their faith. Therefore, it is expected that all student behaviors, actions and practices must be respectful of this Christian environment and not undermine or be inconsistent with our belief.

Importantly, Cedar College fosters open and constructive discussion about the Christian faith, as well as other religions and doctrines. It is expected that students, parents and other people in our school community be respectful of views other than their own.
